The Allison Family

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904

"Somewhere about the middle of the seventeenth century a Scottish highlander, John Allison, by name, left Edinburgh to make a home in the American colonies. He eventually located at Haverstraw, New York, married Amy Wood, an Englishwoman, and became the ancestor of the Allisons on American soil. His son, who married an Englishwoman of Dutch descent, was engaged in the carrying trade between New York and the West Indies, and, during the Revolutionary war endeavoured to remain neutral, but his sons engaged actively in the war. There were seven of them, all of whom with the exception of the youngest, Benjamin, bore arms; four with the loyalists, two with the rebels.

"It is not an easy matter to trace the subsequent history of these seven Allisons. One, Edward, we are let to believe by Sabine, became a Captain in DeLancey's 3rd battalion, and retired on half pay. He afterwards settled in New Brunswick, where Mount Allison is names after him. Among his many other claims upon posterity, he is remembered as the founder of the Mount Allison University. John Allison served under Governor Carleton at the siege of Quebec, in 1775, and was killed when General Montgomery attacked the town on New Year's Eve. Another brother, Isaac, was an officer in the American army during the Revolutionary War. Sometime after the declaration of peace he emigrated westward where he was probably the founder of the Allison family, now to be found in Indiana, whose descendants include the mother of the late President McKinley. It is said that other members of the Allison family also settled in Indiana; but of the remaining brothers it is possible to trace the lived of three only. These three, Joseph, Benjamin and Jeremiah, found their way into Canada, where they settled in Adolphustown and Prince Edward County.

"At the outbreak of the Revolution, Joseph Allison was working in the New York Navy Yard; he threw in his lot with the loyalists, and from all accounts proved himself a plucky and daring soldier. At the battle of White Plains he had some narrow escapes, for while in the fighting line the man beside him was shot down, and he had his canteen belt cut in two by a ball. Record has been kept of the daring he once displayed. It appears he decided to compensate himself by taking rebels' horses for a grudge he bore the owners for burning his house and other property. Disguising himself and a comrade, he joined the rebels' camp, in which he remained for a few days, until the scheme was favoured by a dark night. Then the two availed themselves of the darkness of the night and their knowledge of the woods to get away with five excellent troop horses. Although hotly pursued, they managed to escape. Allison's neighbours in Haverstraw were ever afterwards very vindictive towards him for having placed their troop in such a sorry plight, and years after, when he returned to visit his mother, he only narrowly escaped being tarred and feathered by the mob which his presence had collected. With the closing of the war he turned his thoughts to Canada, and arrived in Adolphustown in 1784, in company with Major VanAlstine's party. In the division of grants of land which he was given in common with his fellow loyalists, he drew lot 17. It comprised two hundred acres, and is now in possession of Frederick Allison, a great-grandson of the pioneer Benjamin.

"Joseph Allison married Mary Richmond, who was born in 1745 in Rhode Island, and was a daughter of Cyrus Richmond, a direct descendant in the fourth generation from John Richmond, a famous New England Quaker. The compiler of the history of the Richmond family states in connection with Joseph Allison, the husband of Mary Richmond, that he was kidnapped in the harbor of Derry, and brought to this country. Joseph Allison had no children, but adopted the son of his brother Benjamin. He died in 1840 when eighty-six years old, and was buried in the U.E. burial ground at Adolphustown, where also lie the remains of his wife, who was over ninety years of age when she died.

"Benjamin Allison, whose son Joseph was adopted by Joseph the pioneer, was the youngest of seven brothers and was too young to participate actively in the war. He was inspired to follow his brother Joseph into Canada by the good accounts the latter gave him of the new country, and first mention of him is found in the annals of Adolphustown for 1796, when he resided in the township with his wife (formerly Phoebe Davidson) and three children.

"Of the seven brothers who lived in Haverstraw, two joined the Continental Army. Jeremiah, one of the two, afterwards became a pioneer of the Bay of Quinte. It seems that the same good news from Joseph, which tempted Benjamin, turned the thoughts of Jeremiah to Canada. From all accounts, he and Benjamin joined forces and with their wives and families together overcame the hard severities of the journey north. Jeremiah first settled on the lake front in Marysburg. His family experienced great hardships while there, and owing to some delay in securing government supplies they were so pressed for food that they were reduced to living on bark and weeds. As Jeremiah is given as an inhabitant of Adolphustown, in 1797, his family must have remained in Marysburgh a very short while. Evidently he crossed over the Bay with his wife and child so as to be near his two brothers. His wife, Hannah Guerney, was the daughter of an interesting family, the Brewers, claimants of the estate of Anneke Jans, who settled in New York State in 1663. The present site of Trinity Church, New York, stands on what was once part of her property. Several pieces of old pewter plate service, which the Brewer family brought with them from Holland are still in the possession of certain members of the Allison family. Miss Julia Allison, of Big Island, owns a plate; Mrs. Gurney Allison, a teapot and Mrs. William E. Baker, a cup. A large oval platter is in the possession of Mrs. Nelson Mallory, of Adolphustown figures as the principal dish at an annual family re-union customary among the Allisons.

"Jeremiah Allison did not settle long in Adolphustown. He crossed over the Bay, in 1808, and settled in Sophiasburgh township where he located on two hundred and sixty-nine acres on the south side of Big Island, which at that time was owned by the Mississaga (sic) Indians, whose chief Abraham, was succeeded by his son John Sunday. They exacted a yearly rental from the settlers, which amounted to the equivalent of four dollars' worth in kind. The island was covered by a forest of immense maples, from which the new-comers managed to extract the annual meagre supply of sugar. The only means of communication with the mainland was by boat. A corduroy road which was afterwards laid, became the foundation of the present gravel road and good bridge connecting the island with the mainland. Jeremiah having cleared sufficient lands for his needs, built the first frame house on the island, standing to this day, inhabited by a grandson of its builder. Incidentally it may be mentioned that Jeremiah owned the first waggon introduced into the island, a matter of small significance to-day, but one of intrinsic importance in the early pioneering days. With increasing prosperity the pioneers strove to add to their comfort; from the flax they spun linen; the wool from their sheep they carded and spun into yarn which they wove into cloth. A piece of lace, now in possession of Miss Julia Allison, was made by her mother from the thread of flax grown on the farm. The same lady has another interesting relic of those early days in an earthen salt cellar, bought at Meyer's Creek, now the city of Belleville, nearly a century ago.

"Jeremiah Allison died in 1857, aged ninety-four years, and his wife predeceased him in 1845. They both lie buried in the old Methodist Cemetery on the south side of Big Island. Jeremiah Allison has many representatives living who, like himself in his own day, are esteemed and respected by all. He was succeeded by his son William, who bought the farm from his father at a price of five years' service in work. William Allison was a private in the Prince Edward Militia when the Rebellion of '37 broke out. The regiment was warned out, but did not see service. Orville Allison, a son of William, has a beautiful silk Union Jack that was presented to Ensign Ketchum, when his troop of Cavalry were disbanded in Picton seventy years ago. The flag is made by hand and is still in a splendid state of preservation, invariably being seen floating on anniversary days of Canadian history. There is also in the possession of the Big Island family the pocket book carried by the father of Jeremiah Allison.

"Benjamin, another son of the pioneer Jeremiah, died at the early age of thirty-six years. The following year the wheat crop was so destroyed by worms, that his widow and family of small children had to gather the little that remained by cutting off the heads of wheat with table knives. His eldest son, Nelson, received the last bounty paid for a wolf's head in Prince Edward County. After a long chase he managed to get the wolf into a farmyard, where it was beaten to death with clubs.

"Among the many descendants of the pioneer Allison, who have held honourable positions in the county, and received the sincerest tokens of respect from the community is David W. Allison, a grandson of the pioneer Benjamin Allison. He has for many years been a prominent figure in the life and times of Adolphustown. As a Liberal in politics he was elected to the Dominion House of Commons, for Lennox, in the years 1883 and 1891. He farms over eleven hundred acres in Adolphustown, where, in 1880, he built a splendid residence which commands a picturesque view of the Bay and is situated couple of hundred yards south of the spot where the loyalists first landed in Adolphustown, at the mouth of the small stream called the Town Creek. David W. Allison has travelled over the entire continent, and has mineral possessions of much worth. On the American side he owns a large portion of the Saginaw iron mine; to the north of Lake Superior he owns five thousand acres of mineral lands, and in Frontenac he holds a half interest in three thousand acres.

"William H.R. Allison, another grandson of the pioneer, and who recently died at his residence in Picton (1904) was a King's Counsel, and had been for a long time regarded as a leading barrister in the town. He was a judge of the Maritime Court until the law creating the office was repealed, and he was Clerk of the Surrogate Court and Court of Assize. He was a member of the First Methodist Church, and of the Masonic Fraternity."

"On the 21st of April, there passed away to peaceful rest the last of Sir John A. McDonald's school mates of the old U.E.L. school house, which they attended away back before they struck their teens, in the presence of Mrs. Amey Gunsolus, (nee Amey Allison), sister of the late D.W. Allison, ex-M.P, Mrs. Gunsolus had reached the ripe age of 89 years, 2 months and 11 days.

"She leaves three brothers and two sisters to mourn her loss, Cyrus Allison, Ex-warden of the county; Joseph Allison, both of Adolphustown; and Edward Allison, of Port Perry; Mrs. Briden, of Kingston, and Mrs. W.N. Mallory, of Adolphustown. The remains were placed in the mausoleum, on the 23rd, now belonging to the heirs of her late brother, D.W. Allison, and erected by him in 1873 at a cost of six thousand dollars, - there to wait the sounding of the trumpet at the last day, when if a million years of more should lapse in the interval, the time spent in this sweet sleep would not seem any longer to the just than the twinkling of an eye.

"Her sermon was preached by Rev. M. Boyce, who did justice to one so worthy of it, at the U.E.L. Memorial Methodist church of this place. The U.E.L. school house, referred to above, has long since passed away by fire, and the butment stones are still to be seen where it stood, on the property now owned by Frederick Membery, of this place, and about a hundred yards east on the road side of the U.E.L. Memorial Anglican church, in the village of Adolphustown.

"Mrs. Gunsolas, on the last day of February last, gave Mr. Membery her recollections of the school house, the teachers, the attendants, who came here from Kingston, Ernesttown, and a wide range from her, with the names of many of the scholars, for the Historic Society of Lennox and Addington, at Napanee, and the same has been forwarded to the Secretary, Mr. Clarence Warner, and the receipt of it has been acknowledged by him. She signed her name with a steady hand, and her mind was as clear as ever. The funeral was the largest seen for years, the church being crowded beyond seating room."

"The oldest son, David Wright Allison left home at an early age and made considerable money in timber lots and iron mines in Michigan and Northern Ontario. He retired early, returned to Adolphustown, married and built a fine house. The house is situated in the UEL Adolphustown Park, near the Old UEL burying ground. He also built an impressive mausoleum in honour of his parents. The mausoleum and surrounding cemetery is on the homestead property and is intended for the use of all Joseph and Mary's descendants."

"D.W. ALLISON - For two weeks past a prominent citizen of the township of Adolphustown, and widely known and esteemed throughout Lennox, Mr. D.A. Allison, was gradually sinking, and on Tuesday afternoon the end came. deceased had attained the patriarchal age of eighty-five years, but there is little doubt that his death was prematurely hastened through an accident at Picton over a year ago, when he was knocked down by a runaway horse, and so badly shaken up and injured that from that time on his decline was marked. David W. Allison was a son of the late Joseph Allison, of U.E. stock, and one of a large family. The remaining brothers are Cyrus Allison, Parma; Joseph Allison, Adolphustown. John and Henry died some few years ago. The sisters are Mrs. Gunsolas, Adolphustown; Mrs. W. Briden, Kingston, and Mrs. Mallory, Adolphustown. Besides his widow, one daughter and three sons survive. "The old Township of Adolphustown and indeed this whole county, has lost one of its oldest and best known native residents in the death of Henry Allison, which occurred at his residence, the old family homestead, the 11 inst. He was born in the old family homestead, which has been occupied by the Allison family ever since the first UE Loyalists came to this county in 1784, and lived on that well-known farm the entire seventy-seven years of his life.

"After the American Revolution the family, which was a large one, got very widely scattered in the States and Canada. In the Maritime provinces, as well as pretty generally throughout Ontario, the family is now well represented. The deceased was kindly and neighborly gentleman, a man of more than ordinary industry, intelligence, information, and ability, always deeply interested in the early history of the Midland District and Adolphustown.

"He was a son of the late Joseph Allison, J.P., for many years a prominent citizen, taking an active interest in the moral, educational and religious progress of this county. He was a man of staunch and liberal views. His surviving brothers are David W., ex- M.P., and formerly a Warden of our County Council; Cyrus, of Parma, also a Warden of this County Council; Joseph, and ex-Reeve of Adolphustown; Edward, Port Perry. Surviving sisters are Mrs. Rev. Briden of Kingston; Mrs. Lewis Brown of Adolphustown; Mrs. Nelson Mallory, of Mallory's Point, Adolphustown.

"He married a daughter, years ago of the late Solomon Wright, of Fredericksburgh, and their two sons, Harry of Conway, and Fred, who resides on the old homestead, survive him. There are also a large number of respected and influent relatives well-known throughout this county. It may be here remarked that Mr. Allison took considerable pride over the fact that there stood on his farm probably the oldest barn in the county, having been built by a Mr. Secord, a carpenter, who soon after was interested in the building of the Major VanAlstine grist mill before 1800 at Glenora, which was said to have been the first flour mill in Prince Edward county.

"Few families have occupied so long a prominent position in municipal and political affairs, in church and educational matters than that of which the deceased was a respected member."

"William Henry Richey ALLISON, a prominent barrister in the county of Prince Edward and a surrogate judge of the Maritime Court of Ontario, was born near Brockville, on April 17, 1836. His father, Rev. Cyrus R. Allison, a noted Wesleyan Minister, was also a native of this Province, preached for many years in the vicinity of the Bay of Quinte, and died at Picton, in 1869. The mother of our subject was Eve Hoover, also a native of Ontario, and the daughter of a United Empire Loyalist. She is still living.

"Mr. Allison was educated at Victoria College, Cobourg; studied law with Philip Low, Q.C., of Picton; was called to the Bar at Michaelmas term, 1864, and from that date has been in constant practice in this town. He does business in all the courts, and his standing is second to that of no lawyer in the county. He is well read; prepares his case with great care; is painstaking in all his legal work, and has great influence with a jury, being clear, argumentative, forcible and persuasive. His success at the Bar has been quite mote-worthy.

"He is an Odd Fellow, being a member of the Grand Lodge of Ontario; and is also a member of the Methodist church of Canada.

"In September, 1861, Mr. Allison was united in marriage with Miss Anna M., daughter of John P. Roblin, deceased, late registrar of Prince Edward county, and for many years a member of Parliament, and they have one son, Malcolm Roblin, who is pursuing his studies in the local schools.

"The father-in-law of our subject mentioned above, was one of those bold spirits who fought the battle for "Responsible Government" in Parliament, and broke up the so-called "Family Compact." His memory is cherished very sacredly in Picton and the county of Prince Edward."

Henry:

1866: Lived in Brooklyn, New York when married.

1871: Lived in Picton, Prince Edward County, Ontario with wife Sarah.

From "A Cyclopedia of Canadian Biography", 1886, George Rose

"Henry William Branscombe, Picton, Ontario, was born at Hallowell, County of Prince Edward in 1837. His father, Arthur Branscombe, was the grandson of a British officer, who served in the war of the American revolution, and after the treaty of 1783, removed to Grand Lake, Queen's County, New Brunswick, at which place a large number of the same name still reside. Early in the present century, the grandfather and father of Mr. Branscombe removed to Hallowell, Upper Canada, and settled near what is now the village of Bloomfield.

"Arthur Branscombe married Catherine Burlingham, daughter of a U.E. loyalist, who came from Dutchess County, N.Y., at the close of the war. The Burlingham's were amongst the most successful of the old settlers of Prince Edward county, and constitute, today, one of the most extensive and respectable families in that county.

"Henry W. Branscombe was educated in his native township, and at an early age commenced the study and practice of dentistry, in which profession he has risen to the foremost rank. in 1862 he left his native town for New York city, where he practised his profession with marked success for five years. He then returned to Picton, and after a sojourn of a few years, removed to Chicago, where he remained until 1879, when he returned to Canada and permanently settled in Picton. His careful steady and industrious pursuit of knowledge, together with the deep interest he has always taken in dentistry, secured for him an honourable recognition by his professional brethren, in his election to the position of secretary to the Dental Association for Ontario. After his removal to Picton, he combined the business of chemist and druggist with that of dentistry, and has for several years successfully conducted both branches.

"In local enterprise Mr. Branscombe has been found to give a helping hand. For five consecutive years he has occupied a seat at the council board, where he has made his influence felt to a marked degree. He has for years been a director of the County Agricultural Society, and is also a treasurer of the Bay of Quinte Fire Insurance Company. "John A. Sprague is a resident of Big Island, lot No. 4, south front, and married to a daughter of R. Badgely, also of Big Island.

"The Sprague family were originally from Long Island, New York. A branch of the family also resided in Rhode island, and the name of at least one of them is familiar even to Canadians, and a household word among Americans, viz., Senator Sprague of Rhode Island, who as Governor of that state, was one of the most influential and powerful men in the whole Union during the late civil war.

"The Sprague family in Canada comprise among their members many of the most influential citizens in Prince Edward County, where they were among the earliest settlers, and where a large number of them still reside.

"Mr. Sprague's mother is a sister of the Rev. Cyrus Allison, so well and favourably known throughout the country as one of the oldest and ablest Methodist Ministers in the District. It was from him that Allisonville, a post village in the township, received its name.

"Mr. Sprague, though still a young man, has already occupied prominent positions in public and municipal affairs - first as Councillor, afterwards as Deputy-Reeve and Reeve, he is at present engaged in farming, and owns and cultivates 150 acres of excellent land. he is an active, energetic, and rising young man, and a leading spirit in the Reform Party."
