Generation Two

2. George Boulter #74970, b. 05 December 1799 in Montreal, Lower Canada,^{1,2} occupation Tanner and Currier, occupation 1871 Agriculturalist in Belleville, d. 18 May 1883 in Picton?,² buried in Glenwood Cemetery, Picton, Prince Edward County, Ontario.²

1819: Arrived in Prince Edward County from Montreal, settled on Big Island, Lot 13.

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1905; The Boulter Family; (pages 180 -)

"At the beginning of the last century when men spoke of going West, they alluded to the lands fringing the lakeside. "West" to the Montreal man meant the new townships laid out on our Bay. The intervening concessions had been settled on the Front, even a little to the rear; but the country behind the lake front was practically an unknown region, left to the Indians and a few adventurous traders.

"It was then the Bay of Quinte district that George Boulter, Esq., alluded to when he said he was going West in 1819. He was a young man of English parentage, who was born in Montreal.

"His father, Nathaniel, who was a tanner and currier, and followed that business, came from rural Hertfordshire. On the voyage out he made the acquaintance of a young woman with whom he fell in love. They were married upon landing at Montreal, where they settled down, and George, our pioneer, was born.

"While still a young man George Boulter crossed to Big Island, where he settled on lot 13. The land at that time belonged to the Mississagas, and he had annually to pay them a rental of a barrel of flour.

"Soon settling, he next married. His first wife was Sarah Peck, who drew two hundred acres of land in Mariposa township, she being the daughter of a United Empire Loyalist. They were married by Rev. Robert McDowell, a pioneer Presbyterian minister, and had ten children. On the death of Sarah, he married Letitia Wilson, who bore him eleven more, making him the father of a family of twenty-one. This number of children in any one family has not often been exceeded in Prince Edward County. The pioneer was a Captain of the Sedentary Militia and he rallied a Company during the Rebellion of '37. But his services were not required, for the Rebellion was suppressed without any great difficulty, finally he removed to Belleville, where he died at the old age of about eight-three of eighty-four years.

"The Boulters have always been active in the public affairs of the county. Nathaniel James, the eldest son of the pioneer, was appointed a Justice of the Peace more than forty years ago. He was a member of the Sophiasburgh Council for seven years; and had been for many more, a prominent member of the Orange Order. He was Master of L.O.L. 574 for three years; County Master, for eight; and Grand Treasurer for Central Ontario for three years. At the time of the Rebellion of '37 he was a Lieutenant in Captain Daniel Ruttan's Company of Militia. His son, George H. Boulter, served as a bandsman in the Fifteenth Regiment. It was stationed in Prescott at the time of the battle of Ridgeway during the Fenian Raid, and he received the medal and grant of land.

"George H. Boulter, M.D., graduate McGill University, the second son of the pioneer, was for twenty-five years a surgeon of the 49th Regiment of Hastings County. He retired with the rank of Lieut.-Colonel. He took a keen interest in educational matters, being Chairman of the High School Board of Stirling for many years. In his political convictions he was a Conservative. He was elected M.P.P four times, serving sixteen years. He was a member of the first Ontario Legislature after the formation of the Dominion.

"Emily Boulter, a daughter of the pioneer, married William Ryerson Dempsey, who sat in the local Parliament for one term.

"The first canning factory in Central Ontario was built in 1882, by Wellington Boulter, the fourth son of the pioneer, who was born in 1838. He was president of the Canadian Packers Association, from its inception for thirteen years. On his retirement he was presented with an illuminated address and a gold watch, in token of appreciation of the service he had rendered the Association. He has always taken an active interest in the public affairs of Picton. For three years he was a member of the town Council and Chairman of the High School Board, and has twice been elected Mayor. In his connection with the Orange Order he is at present Chairman, and has been Manager of the Local Board of the Loyal True Blue Orphanage in Picton. This institution was established in 1898 in the home of the late J.S. McQuaig, ex-M.P. He is also Past Grand Master of Bay of Quinte I.O.O.F. and a charter member of the encampment of that order.

"As has been stated he is the pioneer of the canning industry in Eastern Ontario, and industry which bids fair to become a great source of wealth and benefit to the numerous farmers surrounding the localities in which many of them are situated. When he first started a small canning factory in 1882, there were many "wise men of the East" who with the pessimism peculiar to their type, predicted failure; but undeterred by discouraging advice, Mr. Boulter, with a steady determination, which has always been characteristic of his policy in doing things, persevered and gradually succeeded in paving the successful way as a canning manufacturer, which many others have since pleased to follow. When he first started the business, the methods and appliances were, compared with the present day, decidedly primitive. Peas were then shelled by hand and measured with a quart cup, and corn cut off the cob by hand with a butcher's knife, and to put up from six to eight thousand cans a day, was considered an excellent record. At present, one pea machine can thresh and shell two tons from the straw complete in twenty minutes. The business once content with six thousand cans of peas per day, which was considered such remarkable capacity during the inception of the industry, is now not satisfied with less than thirty-five thousand cans as the average minimum, and arrangements are being made to exceed this high figure. Corn, which in the beginning was treated as stated above, now is operated by the celebrated Sprague Corn cutter, a machine which was invented and perfected by a relative of Mr. Boulter's wife, who is herself one of the pioneer Sprague family, and related to the farm implement and machinery manufacturers of that family names.

"Several of these Sprague Corn cutters are in operation in Mr. Boulter's factory during the season, and each machine treats from eight hundred to ten hundred bushels per day, cutting off the corn and scraping the cob, and the continuation of this process includes the treatment of the corn in improved process kettles; the required cooking being all done by dry steam supplied by two on-hundred horse power boilers. As an evidence of the capacity and the results of Mr. Boulter's factories, we were show the photograph of one solid train of 20 cars, all loaded to full capacity, with the Boulter goods and shipped to the Pacific coast. In 1887 Mr. Boulter sent the first car of canned goods that crossed the continent over the C.P.R. to Victoria. The canning industry of the Bay of Quinte and Eastern Ontario have proved a great boon to the agriculturalist. Mr. Boulter has paid to the grower as high as $90.00 for the yield of one acre of peas, and $1,000 for three acres of strawberries grown to his order. Mr. Boulter, since he commenced business as a manufacturer twenty-four years ago, has paid for produce over a million dollars to the agriculturalists of his immediate district.

Mr. Boulter, at the request of the Canadian Government, sent an exhibit to Tokio, Japan, and obtained the highest obtainable awards. He also obtained the Columbia Medal at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1903; gold medal, Paris 1900; at "Glasgow Exhibition, 1901; the Pan American medal, 1901; and the silver medal at the Provincial Exhibition for Ontario, held at Kingston. The canning industry, when it assumed proportions which had outgrown the advantage of individual ownership, was largely. Through Mr. Boulter's promotion, formed into an amalgamated industry in the form of a joint stock company. This consummation was brought about in March, 1903, and comprised thirty-two of the principal canning factories of Ontario, with a capital stock of $2,500,000, with $1,600,000 paid up, with preferred and common stock, non assessable. The head office of the company is at Hamilton, under the name of the Canadian Cannery, Limited, where all the business is managed and directed.

"The manager, Mr. David Marshall, of Aylmer, with nine directors, one of whom is Mr. Wellington Boulter, control the operations of the corporation, but each local factory is managed by its former owner.

"George E. Boulter, eldest son of Wellington Boulter, is at the present time local manager, under his father, of their large factory at Picton, established 1882, and chairman of the Public School Board. Frank E.N, Boulter, his second son, is, at time of writing (1905), local manager for the canning factory at Port Hope, which is one of the largest concerns included in the Canadian Cannery, Limited.

"His third son, Dr. James H. Boulter, was born in 1878. He entered McGill College and took an eight years' course, and completed it at the end of six years, in arts and medicine, during which time he was president of the Athletic Association and manager of the Football Club. He obtained the cyclist championship of the college, and for two years held the record unbeaten. He graduated in 1903, obtaining the degree of B.A., M.D., and C.M. Soon after, he went to St. Paul, Minnesota, passed the Medical Council, standing second on the list of thirty-six candidates, sixteen of whom failed to reach the requisite standard. Following up this success, he repaired to Lansing, Michigan, and passed the Medical Council of that State, with ninety-three percent to his credit, out of a possible hundred. Immediately after this he passed the Medical Council of Ontario, his native province., with honors. All these degrees entitle him to practice in six States of the Union, beside the Province of Ontario, and it is worthy of note that he took all these several examinations within a space of two months. He is now successfully practising his profession in the city of Detroit.

"A daughter married Mr. E.M. Young, Barrister, County Clerk, and a leading lawyer of Prince Edward County. Two unmarried daughters, Helen Louise and Lillian Leona, reside with their parents.

"As a citizen, Mr. Boulter, by his hospitality, and the keen, unselfish interest in the public good, has won himself a place in the hearts and memories of the people.

"On the call of the motherland to her colonies for assistance during the late war in South Africa, the 16th Battalion of Prince Edward was permitted to send four men. Out of these, three were from Mr. Boulter's factory, to wit, Capt. Wall, Color, Sergeant Croft, and Christopher Holland. Mr. Boulter, who is a thorough loyalist, helped to organize at splendid "send-off" to the men. It was a most hearty one, in which the whole town took part, and Mr. Boulter, in addition to this, so we since learn, have each of the four volunteers the sum of $15.00 as a "good luck and Godspeed" to the far away scene of action. Some time afterwards five more men of the county went out to assist in the great struggle, and Mr. Boulter arranged another equally popular and triumphal departure, and, through his efforts, the town council granted $50.00 to each of the contingent, and the county council the same amount. On the return of these soldiers, Picton gave them a splendid welcome home, and Mr. Boulter, who was chairman of the Reception and Welcome Home Committee, gave each of the men a British sovereign, believing it to be a medal of practical benefit. [Ed. Originally worth one pound sterling, the sovereign was a gold coin weighing .2354 troy ounces]

"In other respects than as a manufacturer has Mr. Boulter advanced the town of Picton. In 1903 he built one of the finest skating rinks to be found in the province; its dimensions are 190 by 75 feet, all covered with galvanized iron, with two club rooms, reception rooms for ladies and gentlemen, and two large gymnasiums for either sex.

"Looking out of the large bay window of Mr. Boulter's office are to be seen two fine cannon, each of them having its own history in the part it played in the Canadian war of defence. One is a thirty-two pounder, made in 1907, and did execution against the Americans at the battle of Queenston Heights. The other, a thirty pounder, made in 1912, and doubtless cast specially to do service in the war of that period, and afterwards used at the battle of the windmill, in the rebellion of 1837-38. These historic relics of the war and rebellion are interesting links of the past with our present peaceful Dominion, and are very much prized by Mr. Boulter, who as many times given evidence in a substantial manner that he is a loyal son of the Empire."
