Generation One

The Daynard Family
Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, pp 292

"The Daynards came originally from Scotland, where the family joined with those who defended the marches in the days when England and Scotland were at feud. They left Scotland for Germany, where Jacob Daynard was married, and whence, in course of time, they emigrated to America, and on the breaking out of the War of Independence they sided with the British, and wrought doughty deeds, as in the days when their forefathers gave the English more than they could do to defend their cattle from the predatory Scot. As an United Empire Loyalist, he received a grant of land from the Crown and settled at South Bay, on what was then known as the Brown farm, and traded it to Brown for what is still known as the Pierson farm, where he died and was buried. The farm is not even yet cleared of its primeval wood. It consisted to a large extent of maple, or sugar bush land, and a considerable quantity of timber was tendered for Picton, in 1903.

"The deed above referred to may be seen cut on buckskin in the Registry Office, Picton. There the name is spelled Dainhirt, and thereby hangs the tale of misfortune of the Daynard family. The Pioneer left two brothers in Scotland. Who remained bachelors. On their decease, a large property which should have been inherited by the Daynard family was lost to them, because of the change of spelling of the name. It was held by the Court that Jacob had not established his identity.

"The Daynards as a race are remarkable for physical courage and strength, as well as for moral uprightness. The Pioneer and his sons fished on South Bay, and hunted deer, bear and wolves to help provide for their wants, and in self-defence. More than one of the sons have been known to seize a wine barrel by the chimes, weighing two hundred and forty pounds, shoulder and carry it a long distance. Some of them were great fighters, and had the peculiarity of smiling queerly as they became enraged; fighting and drinking were not unusual things in their time.

"The Pioneer met his death in 1817 while engaged in carrying a huge log of white poplar to use at Christmas time as a Yule log. He slipped on the stone hearth of his home, and fell backwards, the log falling on him and crushing him. Some of the sons were quite low in stature, Peter being only five feet two inches in height, but he was of amazing breadth, his weight, varying in his prime from two hundred and forty-five to two hundred and sixty pounds."
