Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904, pages 1 - 12; Ketcheson Genealogy

"When William Ketcheson, of Hoden, Yorkshire, England, bade his kindred farewell on the morning of his departure for the New World, in the rosy month of June, 1773, he little dreamed of what there was in store in the years of one short century; nor of the part which he and posterity would play in the great drama that was soon to create a great Republic and lay the foundation of another British nation in the virgin soil of the other half of North America. Born in 1759, he was a mere lad of 14 when he left his native shored accompanied by his sister, Nancy and his uncle, Thomas Orders. They landed in the New World at Norfolk, Virginia. Three years later when in 1776 the disaffected Colonies declared their independence, young Ketcheson joined the British army, and was severely wounded in action. Three years later he was transferred from Emerick's Corps into the British Legion; he went to South Carolina and through the Southern Provinces with Colonel Tarlton and Lord Cornwallis, and took part in the capture of Charleston. After the evacuation of New York by the British he went to Nova Scotia, where he remained three years. In 1786 he came with one of those heroic little bands of United Empire Loyalists who first planted the old flag in the virgin soil of what six years after became Upper Canada.

"It is said the three years in Nova Scotia were spent in fishing on a rock-bound coast at a place called Portoon, and that fire swept over the place and destroyed everything. His wife and children were put on board a boat and taken to New York, while he remained to settle up his business affairs. It is also said he came to Canada direct from New York for his family worked land on shares in the Third Township. The family was for about twelve years identified with the Hay Bay settlement before finally settling in 1800 in Sidney. The old loyalist was granted 600 acres of land in the fifth concession of Sidney in recognition of his services.

"William Ketcheson lost his father at the age of four; his mother whose maiden name was Sally Ayr, subsequently married Robert Ellis. In 1779 William married Mary, daughter of John Rull (sic, possibly "Bull"?), a Loyalist, of New York City. She was born in Bedford, New York, 1761, and in her family were four brothers, Benjamin, John, James and Mangle; and five sisters, Annas, Deborah, Phoebe, Gatrey and Orche. The issue of this marriage were eleven sons and daughters. In 1871 five of the family were living, the youngest son being then in his seventy-fifth year. On March 15th, 1848, in his eighty-ninth year, William Ketcheson passed to his reward, having survived the wife who had proved so faithful a helpmate in their times of adversity, by about six years. He was a man of iron will and great executive ability. He possesses a strong constitution and was active and vigorous up to the day of his death. He was an expert horseman, and, within one week of his sudden demise was able to leap into the saddle from the ground with the agility of a much younger man. To show his remarkable daring in cases of emergency many anecdotes might be related, but two will suffice. One spring during a freshet he rode into Belleville, but before he returned, which was not until after dark, the bridge spanning the river had been washed away, leaving only one stringer, a log flattened on the upper side. Ketcheson crossed on this log. Further on his journey he called at a tavern, where a number of settlers who were present could not believe the feat he had just performed was possible; but they verified the truthfulness of the story in the morning by discovering hoofprints on the log. On another occasion, a number of persons had met on the bridge, and while gossiping on neighborhood matters, was Ketcheson coming in the distance. Supposing he had a jug of whisky with him they resolved to force a treat. Removing a number of planks from the bridge so that their would-be victim, who as driving a team hitched to an old fashioned long sleigh, might not be able to cross and elude them, they made their demand when he drew rein. Ketcheson was liberal, but he would not be played upon. Shouting "forward" to his spirited and well-handled team, they sprang across the wide chasm with the sleigh, and left the jokers to repair the bridge for their pains.

"The sons and daughters of this old Hay Bay pioneer who, by the way, assisted in erecting the first Methodist Church in Upper Canada which was built at that place, and nearly all entitled to special notice as pioneers in the County of Hastings. Their descendants today are found all over the Bay Counties. The Ketchesons have displayed a spirit of affectionate attachment for the land which was their ancestor's adopted home, but is now their native country; instead of longing for citizenship in alien lands, they have inherited a love for the flag he fought for, and an abiding satisfaction with the sufficiency of the land he chose. This love of home and native land has made the Ketchesons numerous in the Bay of Quinte district, and in the beginning of the twentieth Century we find the blood so interwoven into the social fabric of this section of our Province, that social bankruptcy would follow as a result of its extinction. With the exception of one son, who cannot be traced as having been in Canada.

"The sons and daughters of the Pioneer given in the above statement must themselves, like their father, be regarded as pioneers, for William and Henry, were born before the family moved from Nova Scotia to Upper Canada. The genealogy of Colonel William's branch of the family reveals two facts which are unprecedented: first, there were fifteen children and all grew up, married and raised families; and second, the parents lived together as husband and wife for seventy-two years on the very spot where they settled in 1800. Colonel William Ketcheson had his pioneer home several miles back from the Front, and in the early days he came down every Saturday through the woods for supplies, returning with such quantities of flour, pork and other provisions upon his back as would be enough to break the heart of any great-grand-son of to-day. Later he constructed a scow and came down the Moira River. The scow was kept on the river near the present village of Foxboro."

1851: Family lived in Sidney Township, Hastings County, Ontario.

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904; pages 1-12

"Official documents state that William Ketcheson, the pioneer of the family in Canada, "served his Majesty during the whole of the Revolutionary war." When the War of 1812 broke out, William, the eldest of his family, went to his brother Thomas who was cutting underbrush on lot fifteen in the fifth concession, of Sidney, and told him to drop the bushhook and get his musket. Four of the brothers went to Kingston and served during the War. Elijah, the youngest, although only seventeen years old was promoted to sergeant's rank. The family still retains an old pass which read;

"Permit the bearer, Sergt. Ketcheson, to pass on his way to the County of Hastings, he being in pursuit of a deserter. Kingston, 20th November, 1913. (Signed) J. McNabb, Capt., Hastings Militia."

"Sergt. Elijah Ketcheson found further promotion, for another document reads:

"These are to certify that Ensign Ketcheson of the First Regiment, Hastings Militia, is the son of William Ketcheson, who served His Majesty during the whole of the Revolutionary War; and that the said Elijah Ketcheson served during the whole of the late American War, at Kingston."

"This certificate is dated at Kingston, on the 11th May 1817, and is signed by John Ferguson Commanding First Regiment Hastings Militia. When the Fourth Regiment of Hastings Militia was organized in 1838, Ensign Elijah Ketcheson was promoted to a Captaincy, and ten years later was appointed Lieut.-Colonel in command of the Second Battalion. At the beginning of the War of 1812, Thomas and Benjamin Ketcheson were enrolled as Sergeants in the 1st Hastings Flank Company. While William and Thomas were Captains in 1839 in the Hastings Regiment, their brothers Elijah and James were Lieutenants. William Ketcheson, in 1838, was promoted to the Colonelcy of the Fourth Hastings Militia. His son, George M. Ketcheson, subsequently commanded a company in the old regiment; and now his grandson, William Gilbert Ketcheson, is Captain of No. 3 Company of the Hastings Rifles. Other sons of the old Colonel, Owen R., Philip, Henry and George M, also held commissions, and served in the Rebellion of 1837-8. Besides, there is also in the same regiment a grandson of Lieut.-Colonel Elijah Ketcheson, Captain William H. Ketcheson, who commands No. 5 Company; Charles Ketcheson, a son of Thomas, at one time also held a Captaincy in the Hastings Militia."

Historical Atlas of Hastings and Prince Edward Counties, 1878; H. Belden & Co., Toronto.

"Col. William Ketcheson was born in the town of Bedford, New York, in the year 1772 (Pioneer Life suggests 1782) , and was of English descent. He came to Adolphustown from Nova Scotia, and married Nancy Roblin in the year 1800, removing to Sidney shortly afterwards, and locating and settling on lot 26, in the 5th concession, which he cleared. He reared a family of fifteen children, nine sons and six daughters, all of whom eventually became united with the Church, and these all married before death entered the family. There were living at his death - which occurred March 15, 1848 - eighty-four grand-children, one hundred and thirty-seven great-grand-children, and five great-great-grand-children. Total, two hundred and forty-one descendants.

"The ancestors of Col. William Ketcheson saw service in Lord Cornwallis' army during the Revolutionary War, and were engaged in the many battles fought under that general. in the reign of George III, William Ketcheson held the commission of Acting Ensign under Lieut. Sturgeon, who commanded the Hastings Militia, and in 1809 received from Sir Francis Gore a commission of Full Ensign, in 1812 a Lieutenancy, in 1815, under Gen. Brock, he was commissioned as Captain, and in 1832 Major from Sir John Colborne's government. Serving under Col. Thomas Coleman in 1834, during Sir Francis Bond Head's administration, he became a joint commissioner of the 11th division of the Court of Requests.

"In the first year of Queen Victoria's reign he was honoured with a Colonelcy, a title which he wore with honour until the day of his death. in 1839 he received his commission as a Justice of the Peace in the 2nd division of the Court of Requests. in all these positions he discharged their several duties with credit to himself and advantage to his country. Mr. Ketcheson and his amiable wife were consistent members of the Canada Methodist Church, having been converted at the first camp meeting ever held in Canada, at Adolphustown.

"Of commanding presence, with a vigorous mind, his judgment was good - possessing quick perceptions, he was self-reliant. He possessed the confidence of his neighbours and of the community at large. As a citizen, he was loyal to the core, and a staunch supporter of the Government. Possessed of that modesty that ever command respect, he never forced himself upon the people as a claimant for public honours, though he served the township in several capacities. He was ever governed by a conscientious regard for his word and his obligations, possessing such a love for his family and regard for his friends that he ever laboured for their enjoyment."

He married Nancy Ann Roblin #105974, 1800 in Adolphustown, Lennox County, Ontario,<sup>4</sup> b. 1784 in Adolphustown?, Ontario,<sup>5</sup> (daughter of Philip Roblin #117285 and Elizabeth Esther Miller #117286), d. 01 August 1872 in Sidney Township, Hastings County, Ontario,<sup>3</sup> buried in Ketcheson Cemetery, Sidney Township, Hastings County, Ontario.<sup>3</sup>

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904; pages 1-12:

"There is another Ketcheson to be numbered among the pioneers of Huntingdon. The later Owen R. Ketcheson, who was a son of Colonel William, settled in that back township in 1830. He was a Magistrate there for fifty years and a road surveyor for forty. Out of his prosperity he bequeathed one hundred acres to each of his sons, and gave his daughters due money considerations. Owing to the backward and primitive state of life in the early days of Huntingdon's settlement, Owen R. Ketcheson joined with his neighbours and employed a teacher who taught school for nine months in their waggon-house and two winters in their house. Elias Ketcheson, son of Owen R., attended school two weeks only after he reached ten years of age. His ambition and good mind made him educate himself. The result is that he is a well posted man in business matters and current topics. He served as his father's bailiff for nine years. He is now a leading citizen, farming 200 acres on the fifth concession of Sidney, where he moved many years ago. He has been a School Trustee for sixteen, and Secretary and Treasurer for twelve years. For many years he has performed the onerous duties of Treasurer of the Presbyterian Church. He is a director of the West Hastings Agricultural Society, a good Templar and a Conservative. Most of the members of his family settled in the North West, but his second son, Clement H. Ketcheson, resides on the old home. He is an up-to-date farmer who graduated at the Belleville Business College, and is one of the rising young men of Sidney."

"His daughter Gatrey is the subject of a well-known incident that happened when she was a child five years old. The family was living in the fifth concession of Sidney, and the child was sent on an errand to the house of a neighbour, Duncan Irvine, some miles distant. The forest intervened, and when darkness approached and she had not returned, the parents became alarmed. As it was evident that Gatrey had wandered from the trail and was lost, the two families instituted a search. Several Indian scouts and hunters were engaged, and for miles around the woods were searched; but the night was dark, and, to add to the difficulty, a storm of rain and hail set in. On Monday every settler and brave in the neighborhood turned out to assist; on Tuesday, the searchers had increased to three hundred. They shouted, fired guns, and looked in every hole and brush heap; caves of bears and other wild animals were searched. On Friday, Indian runners were sent up and down the Bay to call for help to find the body, as it was supposed by then that the child must be dead. The force increased to five hundred. They organized into squads and scoured the forest in every direction, but their efforts were unavailing until, just as they were about to abandon the search, the child was found alive. The joyful news was proclaimed by shouts that made the forest ring with the glad acclaim. Gatrey had wandered eight days in the forest, and had subsisted on wintergreens. The nights were cold and she was barefooted and thinly clad. One night an animal of some kind lay upon her cold feet, and lest it might kill her, she was afraid to stir. Just before she was found, she had lain down to die, having previously repeated a verse she had learned of her prayers. She was reduced to a skeleton, and it was some time before she recovered from the terrible experience. For months she shrank with terror at the approach of darkness; but in time the baneful effects of her eight day's exposure to October weather in a Canadian forest passed away, and she grew into strong and vigorous womanhood."

"One of the most hospitable homes in Sydney is the substantial house of George M. Ketcheson, who is a son of Colonel William Ketcheson and grandson of the older pioneer. It is a home that everywhere bears evidences of comfort and plenty, and where the host and hostess entertain in the old fashioned hospitable way. While its owner received 300 acres from his father, he has increased his holdings, until now he possesses 560 acres. George M. Ketcheson, like his father, is a good Methodist and a staunch Conservative. His family are detailed in the appended genealogy: Thomas, the oldest, is one of the leading men of Sidney; he is President of the Township of Sidney Conservative Association, Vice-President of the West Hastings Liberal Conservative Association for Dominion purposes, President of the Sidney Town Hall Cheese and Butter Co., and Vice-President of the Belleville Cheese Board. He is an enthusiastic sportsman, a crack shot and an expert fisherman. Although only eighteen years of age, his son Howard is a Sergeant in the Hastings Rifles. Captain William G. Ketcheson, namesake of his father, attended the Royal Canadian Infantry School, Toronto and is very popular in military circles. An enthusiast in all matters military, he joined the militia in 1886, got his commission the following year, and has lately received his company. His brother Daniel is a man of attractive personality, who is justly popular. He pursued a commercial course at the Ontario Business College, Belleville, and has since travelled extensively. Bleeker Ketcheson, the youngest son in this family, is a typical young Canadian farmer, intelligent, energetic and ambitious."

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904; pages 1-12:

"The Ketchesons are not only well born, but as a rule they married well and there is hardly a family of note in the Bay of Quinte region that is not connected by marriage with this vigorous pioneer stock. Amey Ann, daughter of Philip and granddaughter of Colonel William Ketcheson, married John Newton on the 14th of March 1849. He was the son of Rev. Richard Newton, who was born in the county of Durham, England, in 1772. He was for many years the pastor of an Independent Church in Ireland and thus met and married Elizabeth, daughter of John and Jane Anderson. She was a native of Sligo County, Sligo, Ireland and the family record hereafter referred shows that her parents were married on the 24th day of May, 1763. She was married to Rev. Richard Newton, November 11th, 1801, and bore him eleven children. Of these three sons and six daughters, to wit, Jane, Sarah, Elizabeth, Ann, John Mary, Thomas, Margaret and Richard after her death accompanied their father to Canada in 1831. The family settled in the County of Hastings, Rev. Richard Newton purchasing Lot 20, Third Concession of Huntingdon, where he resided until his death, which occurred on the 8th day of March, 1842."

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1906; John Chapman; (pages 229 - 230)

"John Chapman, the respected postmaster, and business man of Frankford, was born in the city of Bath, England, August 24, 1838. He was educated at the schools in Bath, and in 1855, when he was only seventeen years old, he emigrated to Canada, coming direct to Toronto, where he remained three years in the employ of William Brownscombe, who had a shoe store on the site of the Robert Simpson Co.'s Department Store, Yonge Street. Here young Chapman learned the retail shoe business, which business he has always followed. Toronto, at the time contained about forty thousand inhabitants, mainly between York, Sherbourne, Queen and Front Streets; the Esplanade had not been filled in at this time, and the G.T.R. ran on Front Street, the depot being situated opposite the Queen's Hotel.

"In 1858, young Chapman went to Frankford, and was engaged for a time with William Gilbert, a general merchant. The following year, having saved some money, he started in business for himself, opening a store in the very building which he now occupies. He employed a number of men, and did quite a large business in the manufacture and sale of boots and shoes. William Gilbert, a few years after, built the "Gilbert House," Trenton, and Mr. Chapman bought out his Frankford store, and ran it successfully for a year, selling out all but the shoe department to Thomas Howard' and from this time he confined himself to the retail shoe business.

"Mr. Chapman, early took an active interest in the affairs of Frankford. In 1867 he was appointed postmaster. For his first wife he married, December 1, 1859, Charlotte M. Ketcheson, of the historic Ketcheson family. Of their children it may be mentioned that John F., who married Emily Skinner, of Gananoque, is one of the managers of the Rathbun Co., being general freight and passenger agent of the Bay of Quinte Railway, the Oshawa Railway, and the Thousand Islands Railway, and superintendent of the Navigation Company, Deseronto.

"Earl R. married Dina Simmons. He is superintendent of the Thousand Islands Railway & Navigation Co., for the Rathbun Company's Works, at Gananoque.

"Arthur M. married Mary Simmons. They have two children, Earl F. and Marion. Arthur is station agent and soliciting freight and passenger agent of the Central Ontario Railway, at Frankford; he is clerk of Sidney Township, and is one of the leading business men of Frankford.

"John Chapman married, for his second wife,. Olive Stevens, August 15, 1879, They have two daughters, Lillie P., who married Dougal Bleeker, and Georgina, bookkeeper for the Trent River Paper Company.

"The older Chapmans are members of the Methodist Church, but the younger members of the family attend the Church of England, and the Presbyterian Church. John Chapman was class leader and trustee of the Methodist Church for several years. He is a prominent Mason, and in youth joined the Toronto Loyal Orange Lodge, 301. It is worthy of note that when John Chapman arrived in Toronto, a boy of only seventeen, he had but one sovereign and a few shillings left. But he at once obtained employment, and, not only remained with the same employer during all the time he was in Toronto, but has always been identified with that line of business with which he was first associated."

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904; pages 1-12:

"Descended from the pioneer and the grandson of Colonel Elijah Ketcheson, is Thomas E. Ketcheson, one of the leading merchants of the city of Belleville. He was the third son and child of Allen T. and Mary Ketcheson, and was born upon the farm, cleared and settled by his great-grandfather, perhaps the oldest farm in the Bay of Quinte region.

"His public school education was supplemented by a course at the High Scholl at Deseronto. Subsequently he taught school and about 1890 came to Belleville, engaging in the mercantile business with John W. Dunnett. In 1898, the business was taken over by the present firm of Laidlaw and Ketcheson, consisting of John A. Laidlaw and Thomas E. Ketcheson. The firm owns and successfully operates one of the largest dry goods and carpet houses between Montreal and Toronto.

"Mr. Ketcheson although devoted to his business takes a keen interest in political matters and has rendered valuable services to the Liberal party as a member of the Liberal Association. He married Della Hampton and they have five children - Percy, Marion, Allen, Thera and Clarence. Mr. Ketcheson belongs to the Masonic Order and also to the Church of England."

Family lived in Tweed, Hastings County.

"Their son, Philip Ketcheson Newton, is a prosperous druggist and stationer in the town of Tweed. As a youth he attended the public schools of Hungerford, supplemented by a commercial course at Belleville. He next served an apprenticeship with James Clark and Company, Druggists at Belleville. He continued his education at the College of Pharmacy at Toronto, graduating in February, 1880. He spent some three years in Manitoba, and then settled at Tweed, which became his permanent home. Here he resides with his wife and family in one of the handsomest homes in the town, and his business has more than kept pace with the growing prosperity of Tweed.

"He has served for fifteen years as a magistrate; also for years as an issuer of marriage licenses. He served for five years upon the school board, including the period during which the present handsome school building was in course of erection. Mr. Newton is an active member of the Liberal party, and one of the Vice Presidents of the Liberal organization for Hastings East. Family lived in Hungerford Township.

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904; pages 1-12:

"His son, John Newton, settled upon Lot 5, Concession 8, township of Hungerford. He was born April 8th, 1811, and on March 14th, 1849, married Amy Ann, daughter of Philip Ketcheson. He was evidently a man of no little cultivation, and his descendants preserve with pardonable pride the family record written by him in a clear clerkly hand at the age of seventy-two. His wife died November 17th, 1870; he survived her more than twenty years, departing this life September 25th, 1892.

"Their son, Philip Ketcheson Newton, is a prosperous druggist and stationer in the town of Tweed. As a youth he attended the public schools of Hungerford, supplemented by a commercial course at Belleville. He next served an apprenticeship with James Clark and Company, Druggists at Belleville. He continued his education at the College of Pharmacy at Toronto, graduating in February, 1880. He spent some three years in Manitoba, and then settled at Tweed, which became his permanent home. Here he resides with his wife and family in one of the handsomest homes in the town, and his business has more than kept pace with the growing prosperity of Tweed.

"He has served for fifteen years as a magistrate; also for years as an issuer of marriage licenses. He served for five years upon the school board, including the period during which the present handsome school building was in course of erection. Mr. Newton is an active member of the Liberal party, and one of the Vice Presidents of the Liberal organization for Hastings East. He belongs to the Methodist Church; is a member of the Board and has been record steward of the circuit for fifteen years last past."

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904; pages 1-12:

"Two successful, scientific farmers who each raise as much crop per acre as any other man in the county are Manchester and Selden T. Ketcheson, sons of John Vandewater Ketcheson and great-grand-sons of the pioneer loyalist, William. Born and educated in Thurlow, they are both married and are respected as good citizens. Manchester Ketcheson, the elder of the two, belongs to the Methodist Church, to which he contributes liberally, not alone to its moral, but also to its financial needs. He is a Bible class teacher who takes charge in the absence of the Sunday School Superintendent. A man of good executive ability, he farms his one hundred and fifty acres in a model manner. He is a Liberal who as a citizen ranks among the best in the county. The younger brother, Selden T. Ketcheson, has been for many years trustee of the old White's Methodist Church. His wife, before her marriage was organist in the church at Ernesttown, and since her marriage she has acted in the same capacity in her husband's church. On the two hundred and fifteen acres he owns in the second concession he has always had on hand ten to a dozen Clydesdale horses ready to the buyer. As a Liberal, he takes much interest in politics. He is a member of the Lodge 81, I.O.O.F., Belleville."
