"Augustus SHORTS, b.c. July 1777, d. Jan. 12 1862| m. in 1799, Hannah PRINDLE, Dau. of William and Eunice PRINDLE of Fredericksburg [sic], Ontario. In 1782 under the faithful labors of Rev. D. DUNHAM, Mr. Shorts, then 15 years of age, was converted to God and became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1799 he obtained a license to exhort, and in 1801 one to preach. On July 1, 1817, he was ordained a deacon by Bishop GEORGE, in the old church at Adolphustown, and Elder by Bishop REYNOLDS at Trafalgar June 29, 1835; his ordination by Bishop GEORGE being the first ordination by the Methodist Church in the Province of Upper Canada, He became one of the most able preachers of the day in that denomination, and from his being one of the early settlers of that part of the country, was well acquainted with the introduction of Methodism into Canada, and with the principal man engaged in the work. He lived to see the denomination pass through many vicissitudes, but was ever a faithful adherent to his early teachings. Being very conservative, he looked with a jealous eye upon any new forms for the government of the church. Many there were who owed their spiritual birth to his faithful Exhortations and preaching, and among this circle he was affectionately known as "Father Shorts." His last sermon was preached to a congregation of young converts, in the August previous to his death; his text being Isaiah xxxv, 8,9,10. When told by the doctor that he could not lived more than a few hours longer he replied:

"Amen, I have made it the business of my life to be always ready for this event, and I have nothing to do but wait the appearance of my Lord."

"While in Adolphustown, in the early years of his ministry, he baptized many of the VAN DUSEN children, a son of Casper VAN DUSEN being named for him."

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1804; The William Harrison Faily, pp. 384 - 386.

"William Harrison was a soldier in the Royal ranks during the Revolution, He came from England with General Bourgoyne and served under that ill-fated commander during the campaign that culminated at Saratoga. He was an elder brother of Sergeant John Harrison and ultimately settled also in Prince Edward county. He obtained grants of land in what is now the county of Wellington; but land was then so cheap that he failed to take advantage of the grant and chose instead to cast his lot with other United Empire Loyalists in Marysburgh, and purchased land there in preference to taking advantage of the grant. It is said that he landed in Prince Edward County in the full vigor of manhood, but with less than ten shillings in his pocket. With untiring energy and perseverance he succeeded in making a home for himself and family. The newly cleared land soon rewarded him for labor and toil, and from it his descendants in the third and fourth generation profit largely to-day. It is stated on good authority that William Harrison made for himself the first waggon in Marysburg, the wheels being solid pieces of wood with iron tires. With this and a team of oxen he was considered to be well equipped as a farmer and enabled to proceed with the work of early settlement in a more vigorous manner.

"He left four daughters who intermarried with the Powers, Hughes, Hudgin and Minaker families respectively; while his only son married Christie Ann Miller. Timothy settled on the farm now occupied by his son Marshall nears what was then known as Indian Point, (Point Pleasant); the greater portion of which was densely covered with fine maple and beech forest. Here he experienced many of the privations and pleasures of early pioneer life. Although the neighborhood was sparsely settled, yet the pioneers, realizing the necessity of schools, churches and local improvements, succeeded in accomplishing many difficult tasks which resulted in the general upbuilding of the section. In all these undertakings during the early years Timothy Harrison bore an active and useful part. Fish and games were alike abundant; it was not an unusual occurrence to have venison on the table during the greater portion of the year. Many interesting and exciting incidents are told of these early years. It is related that on one occasion as Timothy was returning home quite late from a neighbor's house, he was confronted by some wild animal, but the evening being very dark he could not be sure what it was. Knowing, however, that no time was to be lost, he shot as nearly as possible, between the fiery eyes that gleamed at him so fiercely. His faithful gun, steady nerve and accurate aim saved his life, for he found the dead body of a ferocious grey ribbed lynx with a bullet embedded in its brain, for whose destruction of course he received the legal bounty. Three of his sons reside on near-by farms on the Bay side, N. Marysburg, east of Prinyer's Cove; they are George, Angus and Marshall. Their farms show care and intelligent application on a soil and in a situation not to be excelled in the county.

"On the old homestead lived Marshall Harrison, the youngest of the family residing in the county, and the pioneer in this section, in the matter of entertaining summer visitors. The house, grounds and situation are admirably fitted for the purpose, as the shore is lined with noble oaks, maples and pines, while along it winds a gravel drive-way for miles. In most weathers, yachting, boating and fishing may be indulged in, and in summer there is a cool breeze, and a safe shore for bathing. From every point of view, this part of the Bay of Quinte is unsurpassed as a visiting place for summer tourists".
